The Shanks Bill.

In the measures now before the General Assembly whose enactment will be of benefit to the State, is to be numbered House Bill No. 193, of which Mr. Shanks is the author and which provides for the creation and establishment of a "Department of Uniform Accounting and Inspection of Public Offices."

The State Inspector and Examiner is made the chief officer of the department with the title of State Inspector and is to have two assistants, appointed from the two political parties casting the largest vote at the preceding State election; in addition the State Inspector is given the power to appoint, after competitive examination, field examiners, who are to receive pay and their necessary expenses when actually on duty.

These officers, together with the necessary clerical appointees, constitute the working force of a department which, under the further provisions of the act, is charged with the duty of seeing that a uniform system of accounting and reporting is adopted and followed by "every public department, whether State, county, city, town, school district or other taxing subdivision or unit within the State, and in every penal, charitable or other institution within the State supported in whole or in part by the State, or by any county, city, town, school district or other taxing subdivision or unit within the State, or in any institution to which either the State or any municipality within the State has contributed or contributes funds or property."

Separate accounts are to be kept for every appropriation, levy or fund, and reports are to be made regularly to the State Inspector on forms furnished by him.

Under this system, Kentucky, for the first time, will have a line on the financial workings of every public office and institution; haphazard methods of accounting, of supervision and reporting will be replaced by prescribed method and exact inspection and the use made of any and all money belonging to the State or municipality can be determined. At present, Kentucky has no way of knowing what part of such funds is wasted. The Shanks bill is modeled on the law which a number of other States have adopted with a resultant saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars annually and an increased honesty and efficiency in the public business. Kentucky's financial status is such that she can not afford to be indifferent to such questions. A closer guard over the ways in which her moneys are expended would produce better returns and permit of appropriations now declared impossible for want of funds.

The Shanks bill is nothing more nor less than a proposal and a plan for the adoption by Kentucky of a business system in her business affairs. As such it is entitled to consideration and to favorable action.—Louisville Times editorial.

POLITICAL.

Mrs. Marilla Kicker, wealthy and 65, will run for governor of New Hampshire.

Judge B. L. D. Guffy, late judge of the Court of Appeals, is thought to be dying at his home at Morgantown.

David R. Francis, of Missouri, stated that he was in the race to succeed Senator Warren in the United States Senate, and will make a finish fight for the place.

Friends of Auditor James want him to run for Congress in this district but we believe he possesses too much judgment to give up his good office for a barren idealism.

The Kentucky Senate passed a measure which abolishes State revenue agents. Under the provisions of the bill, county assessors will be given the power to appoint revenue agents.

It is reported from Washington that there is little doubt but that Arizona will be given Statehood at this session of Congress and that Mark Smith, formerly of Kentucky, will be its first United States Senator.

The bill introduced by Senator A. J. Oliver, of Allen county, to prohibit the manufacture or sale of cigarettes or cigarette paper or materials in this State, received scant consideration at the hands of the Committee on Kentucky Statutes, to which it was referred, the report being adverse, which has the effect of killing the measure.

Struck A Rich Mine.

S. W. Heeds, of Coal City, Ala., says he struck a perfect mine of health in Dr. King's New Life Pills for they cured him of Liver and Kidney trouble after 12 years of suffering. They are the best pills on earth for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia, Debility. 25c at Penny's Drug Store.

The first of the Bosworth-Wyatt good roads measures passed the Kentucky Senate by a vote of 21 to 10.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Miss Fattie Willis, a popular young woman of the Kirkaville section, is dead.

George C. Thompson, of East Bernstadt, was reappointed deputy United States marshal.

The Somerset council repealed the special tax imposed on the business men some two years ago.

Dave Brown, assistant mine foreman of the Phoenix Jellico Coal Co. at East Bernstadt, died of smallpox.

Mrs. Lucretia Divine, of the West End of Boyle, celebrated the 100th anniversary of her birth yesterday.

Thieves broke into the Christian church at Junction City and stole a lot of coal and other things of small value.

Curtis Parrish, 83 years old, is dead at Richmond, following a short illness. He was surveyor of Madison county for over 40 years.

Harry Smith, charged with killing Ewing O'Neal in Rockcastle county, was arrested in Missouri and is now in jail at Mt. Vernon.

Nicholasville went wet in an election held in that town Tuesday by a majority of 30. In September, 1906, the place went dry by 17.

The Boyle circuit court was affirmed in the case of Joe Burdette against the Board of Council of Danville. Burdette was given 35 days in jail for selling liquor in a prohibition town.

Fifteen men are confined in the Pineville jail awaiting penitentiary sentences, and one, James White, is under sentence of death. Four of those under conviction were sent up for life. The present term of the Bell circuit court exceeds all records in the number of convictions made, says a dispatch.

The administrator of McKinley Shadon has filed suit in the Pulaski circuit court against the Queen & Crescent railroad for $20,000. The boy was stealing a ride on the company's train and brakeman Litton fired to scare him. The bullet struck a rock, bounded almost at right angles and struck the lad, killing him instantly. Robert Harding, of Danville, and Denton & Wadde, of Somerset, represent the plaintiff.

In Memory of a Little One Who Is Now in Heaven.

A few weeks ago the I. J. brought to us the news of a death at Highland, which must have cast much gloom and sadness in the home where the death occurred, and the Highland Methodist Sunday-school. It is hard for us to realize that little Stella is there no more, because in our imagination we see her in her Sunday-school class, with those pretty blue eyes sparkling, her thought and attention fixed upon her teacher, seeming to be lost in thought of the One Who said, "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

Then we see her as she goes up to grandpa's. But, alas! we know that she is not there; her little body has been laid away in the old graveyard to await the resurrection, but we are sure that her spirit is not there. We will not expect to see her there any more. Because we know that she has gone to Him Who said, "I go to prepare a place for you." Oh, how comforting it will be to the bereaved family and friends if they will only remember that God takes some children to Himself to make Heaven complete. It seems hard to understand it here; yes, it may not be for us to here at present. No, "Not now, put in the coming years, it may be in a better land, We'll read the meaning of our tears, and then sometime we'll understand. We'll catch the broken thread again, and finish what we here began; Heaven will the mysteries explain, and then, ah, then, we'll understand! God knows the way; He holds the key; He guides us with unerring hand; Sometime with tearless eyes we'll see, yes, there, up there, we'll understand! Then trust in God thro' all thy days; fear not, for He doth hold thy hand; Tho' dark thy way, still sing and praise; Sometime, sometime, we'll understand."

A FRIEND.

The Best Hour of Life.

Is when you do some great deed or discover some wonderful fact. This hour came to J. R. Pitt, Rocky Mt., N. C., when he was suffering intensely, he says, "from the worst cold I ever had, I then proved to my great satisfaction what a wonderful Cold and Cough cure Dr. King's New Discovery is. For, after taking one bottle I was entirely cured. You can't say anything too good of a medicine like that." Its sure and best remedy for diseased lungs, Hemorrhages, LaGrippe, Asthma, Hay Fever or any throat or lung trouble. 50c., $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Penny's Drug Store.

Henry W. Donnelly, formerly a widely known actor and later a theatrical manager, died at his home in New York.

Robert Miller, 27 years old and married, met Mamie Hoose, a former sweetheart, at Waco, Tex., and shot her to death with an automatic pistol. He then blew out his own brains.

Irvin Blantchett, a 16-year-old white boy, was arrested charged with the murder of Mary Tedder, aged 14 years, near Deland, Fla. The girl was stabbed in 65 places, being literally cut to pieces.

The former Secretary of the Treasury says that if a central bank were established in this country it would be owned or controlled by Standard Oil, and that it could pay the National debt for its charter.

One man was killed, another probably fatally injured and several passengers were shaken up and badly frightened in a wreck that occurred on the Guthrie & Elkhorn branch of the L. & N. near Hermon.

Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, was taken suddenly ill on the steps of the Capitol and had to be carried into his room. Later he was removed to his home, where he is now under the care of a physician. The attack is said to have been due to a recurrence of an old trouble, hardening of the arteries.

Louis Ostendorf, of the Empire Theater orchestra at Indianapolis, shot and killed an Italian violinist named Casca at the entrance to the theater. Casca, who had been dismissed from the orchestra, had fired two shots into Ostendorf's abdomen. The latter then wrested the revolver from his assailant and killed him. Ostendorf died shortly afterward.

Life on Panama Canal

Has had one frightful drawback—malaria trouble that has brought suffering and death to thousands. The germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "Three bottles completely cured me of a very severe attack of malaria," writes Wm. A. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had good health ever since." Cures Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles and prevents typhoid. 50c. Guaranteed by Penny's Drug Store.

Some Nice Things Papers are Saying Over the State of the Sale Of the I. J.

GOV. BECKHAM IN STATE JOURNAL.

Mr. Shelton Saufley has bought the STANFORD INTERIOR JOURNAL and will shortly move to Stanford to take charge of it. All who know him wish him the fullest measure of success in his new enterprise, but his many friends in Frankfort deeply regret to see him leave here. He came here some years ago and was managing editor of the State Journal under Mr. Walton. With his courteous and gentlemanly manners he has won the good will and friendship of all the people here, and he will leave not an enemy in the entire community. He has developed into one of the best journalists in the State and with his capacity and traits of character, he is certain to succeed wherever he goes.

The STANFORD INTERIOR JOURNAL has for a great many years been one of the strongest papers in Kentucky, vigorously and forcibly edited, first by Col. W. P. Walton and afterwards by his brother, Ed Walton. These two brothers have been an honor and credit to the profession of journalism. Scrupulously honest, fearless in the expression of their views and generous in their treatment of friends or foes, they have established an honorable reputation for success in the newspaper business. In fact, they have proven by their experience that it pays for a newspaper to be honest and not sell out its policy of utterances.

Mr. Saufley, therefore, takes possession of a newspaper with an established reputation, and we predict that he will prove himself worthy to keep up its excellent record. The State Journal feels a personal interest and pride in him, and upon his departure from here, wishes for him and his family prosperity and happiness.

ELIZABETHTOWN NEWS.

Mr. Shelton Saufley, who has been doing some very fine work on the Frankfort News, has purchased the INTERIOR JOURNAL at Stanford, of Mr. Ed Walton and has taken possession. The INTERIOR JOURNAL is one of the most successful semi-weekly publications in Kentucky and has been in the hands of W. P. and E. C. Walton for 40 years. Mr. Saufley is a popular and an experienced newspaper man and he will keep his purchase up to its high standard of excellence.

Staggers Skeptics.

That a clean, nice, fragrant compound like Bucklen's Arnica Salve will instantly relieve a bad burn, cut, scald, wound or piles, staggers skeptics. But great cures prove its a wonderful healer of the worst sores, ulcers, boils, felons, eczema, skin eruptions, as also chapped hands, sprains and corns. Try it. 25c at Penny's Drug Store.

SHELTON M. SAUFLEY,
OWNER.

HON. HARVEY HELM,

of Lincoln county, is a candidate for re-nomination for Congress from the Eighth district, subject to the action of the democratic party.

MR. BRYAN FOR COUNTY OPTION.

In a statement issued by William Jennings Bryan, he comes out flat-footed for local option and says it is time for all political parties to declare themselves independent of the liquor interests. The saloon is generally allied with vice and the efforts of such concerns to control or dictate public policies are as disgusting as they are repugnant to decent people. It is certainly used to debauch politics and prevent intelligent consideration of public questions. The democratic party at least cannot afford to act as the mouth-piece of the liquor interests and the sooner it declares that there is nothing common between it and the selfish, mercenary and conscienceless traffic against the home, the State, private virtue and public morals the better. Mr. Bryan regards county option as fair and logical and insists that the government has the undoubted right to regulate the liquor traffic in any manner it sees fit. Mr. Bryan was speaking especially as to Nebraska, but his conclusions are applicable to all sections. The accused traffic must go and the man or men who attempt to prevent the people from expressing their wish on the subject need ask nothing farther from them. If they do, when they ask bread they will be given a stone. They will not again be permitted the chance to break faith and their promises.

Federal courts have time and again decided that the boycott is in restraint of trade, especially interstate trade, and therefore illegal, but until the decision of the court sitting at Danbury, Conn., against the union hatters for boycotting the manufacturers, it had not been held that individual members were peculiarly responsible to the concerns injured. A verdict for $224,000 was given against 240 members of the union and the decision is in effect that every member who pays a dollar to his union, which in turn supports the national bodies, which form the American Confederation of Labor, is responsible for the acts and statements of its officers. This new principle of individual responsibility will be taken to the Supreme Court for final adjudication and the result will be watched with great interest both by union men and their employers.

The selection of Appellate Judge Henry S. Parker, of Louisville, to succeed President James K. Patterson, of the State University, insures a fitting successor to the learned and capable man who has for nearly 40 years directed with marked ability the institution which he has seen rise from modest pretensions to a place among the greatest Universities in the country. Not content with devoting his lifetime to its interests, he proposes that his aid and influence shall continue after his death, and to that end will leave his fortune of $150,000 to it, announcement of which was made last week. Great indeed has been the work of this really great man, to whom thousands of young men and the State generally are irredeemably indebted.

GEORGE SAUNDERS, aged 65, of Richmond, Va., has just been forced to elope with his sweet-heart, Miss Annie Fox, 10 years his senior, because his sons thought the old man was not a proper subject to commit matrimony a third time. Hard-hearted boys. They should have some consideration for age. It is dangerous for old people to be sliding down ladders and fleeing to Gretna Greens. They are apt to get some of their bones broken.

GOV. BECKHAM's paper, the State Journal, is making it mighty warm these cold winter days for those Senators who promised their constituents one thing and are now doing another, and they deserve all that is said of them. The Louisville Herald makes the bold declaration that the Senate is controlled by a quartet of lobbyists whose word is law to their subservient followers. If true, pity 'tis, 'tis true.

PLANS are already on foot to make the reception in honor of Roosevelt's return to New York, June 15th, the greatest in history. The conquering hero of the war against defenseless animals deserves such honors, if you don't mind what you say. Mark the prediction. The occasion will be the opening of his candidacy to succeed Taft, and here's wagering that he will receive the republican nomination.

The cost of living is coming down in New York. That is for some people. A seat on the stock exchange sold the other day for $82,000, against a former record of $91,000. Even at the former price, suckers that are supposed to be born every minute and who finally foot the bills, should think a long time before they put up their money against such a brace game.

A WOMAN is running for governor of New Hampshire. If she is elected we suppose she will be known as "the governoress."

Frankfort Political Gossip by The Editor.

FRANKFORT, FEB. 17.—Several bills have finally managed to get through both Houses of the General Assembly and are ready for the Governor's signature or the veto ax. The principal one is the bill granting to the circuit judges of the State $1,200 per year additional to their regular salaries in return for serving as special judges in other districts when the regular judge is unable to preside. This brings the salary of the circuit judges up to $4,200 a year. Whether the Governor will veto the bill or not is not known, but his disapproval will make little difference, for the two Houses will pass it over his veto. As a general thing the officials who serve the Commonwealth are very well paid, but the most vicious "watch-dogs" of the treasury had a hard time to find arguments to raise against this bill. The best lawyers in the State have little trouble making $3,000 or more per year, and the cause of justice demands that none but the very best of the profession be elected circuit judges. There have been several recent instances in the State where circuit judges voluntarily laid down the ermine to enter private practice, where their pecuniary return was so much in excess of the salary which has formerly been paid this division of the bench.

The Knights of Columbus, a Catholic organization, secured the passage by both Houses of a bill making October 12—Columbus day—a legal holiday. There was no opposition anywhere to this bill and it will be readily approved by the Governor.

COUNTY UNIT BILL A GONER. Several backsets have recently been received by the advocates of the County Unit Extension bill in the House. Its friends have been trying to push it forward as a special order, but have been unable to muster the necessary two-thirds vote to do so. The sentiment in the House for extension of the local option law uniformly to all counties of the State, is considerably in the majority in the House, but is not nearly as strong as has been the sentiment for the original County Unit bills in previous Houses. A great many temperance representatives believe that the present County Unit law is sufficient for the present. They would vote all day long against repealing the present law, if it became necessary, but are in no hurry to vote for further extension.

Representative George Waggoner, of Henry county, the option leader in the House, caused everyone to sit up and take notice when he shot in a State-wide prohibition bill last week. He nor any of his friends of the prohibition movement have any hopes of getting it passed. Many of the strongest temperance men in the State who are here, do not hesitate to say that it would be foolish to vote State-wide prohibition in Kentucky before the Federal Interstate commerce laws are repealed, which permit the shipment of liquor from outside the State into local option territory. They admit that the abolition of the liquor business in Kentucky under existing conditions would not only fail to stop the supply of liquor in the State, but would add a tremendous burden of taxation upon the people of the State to make up the loss of taxes should the big distilleries be driven out.

The County Unit bill is certain to be passed by the House before the session is over, but its enemies seem to have things so completely in hand that it will get through too late for any further serious consideration by the Senate, even if that body was inclined to give it.

WOMEN LOSE THEIR FIGHT. The suffragettes, who have been infesting the capital since the session began, endeavoring to get the Legislature to pass a law giving women the right to vote for election of school trustees, practically lost all hope when the House Committee on Suffrage and Elections decided to report adversely on the bill. The ladies had felt that things were coming their way when they secured a favorable report from the gallant Senators. The members of the lower House committee were less chivalrous, however, for they turned a deaf ear to all entreaties and decided against the bill. This means that the House will kill it. Somebody said that the only ones who want women to vote are "short-haired women and long-haired men," but the delegation from the State Federation of Women's Clubs had some very able and brilliant women working for their cause, and some learned educators as well as the editors of the two Lexington newspapers, the wife of one, Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, being an enthusiast on the subject. It is a noticeable fact very few of the women who are in the front of the fight for woman suffrage have any children of their own to be educated under the supervision of the trustees for whom they wish to vote.

EIGHTH DISTRICT DOPE. Discussion of the race for the democratic Congressional nomination in the Eighth district has led a number of republicans from that neck of the woods to declare that as soon as he retires from office in 1911, they are going to nominate Frank P. James, now State auditor, as the republican candidate against whomsoever may be the demo-

How To Collect Your Notes and Accounts.

How can I collect what is owing me? This is the all important question with every merchant, wholesale firm, business and professional men, farmers—and, in fact, every one—to-day. Never has the question been so prominent in the business world as it is today. The loss of a few accounts may eat up your profits in business; the failure to collect a note makes you that much poorer; not being able, or in a position, to give the proper attention, knowledge or experience to the adjustment or examination into some claim in which you have an interest may cause you the loss of many dollars. Our province and our business is to help you in these matters. Whether it is a NOTE or ACCOUNT you are not able to collect; or whether it is some claim in which you have an interest which needs looking into carefully, we are prepared to do it, and do it promptly. This is our business; we make it a study. We have the facilities and we have the experience, and the fact that we have collected many dollars which were given up as lost, is one of our best arguments in favor of what we can do. Our terms are reasonable, and we make no charges unless we collect. We make collections anywhere in the United States. We recently collected an account for a firm in the adjoining county against a man in California. If you have a claim which needs looking after, or a note or account which you want collected, no matter how large or how small, or where the parties live, send it to us. We solicit your business. eratic standard-bearer for succeeding term. Mr. James' home is in Harrodsburg and he is very strong with his party there and elsewhere in the district, and undoubtedly could have the empty honor if he wishes it. What would make him an especially available candidate is the fact that he has a pretty fat "bar" and would not be troubled for funds to finance a Congressional campaign.

Another Eighth district republican, who holds a State office here, is coming into the limelight through the talk that is being heard among his party's leaders of running for auditor to succeed James. This man is Insurance Commissioner Charles W. Bell, who, also hails from old Mercer. That Commissioner Bell has made a good official, not even the rankest democrat will gainsay, and if the republicans have to have the office again—which very few people here believe—he would make a fine auditor. State Senator Joe Bosworth, of Middleboro, is also being "mentioned" for auditor, however. Bosworth is a member of the famous democratic Bosworth family of Lexington and was a life-long democrat himself until he moved to Bell county and got interested with other capitalists in coal mines. He then turned republican, but he has always regarded progressive legislation favored by the democrats, with such liberal views that the democrats characterize him as an unusually "good republican."

George D. Florence, of Stanford, was over this week on business with the auditor's department and shaking hands with his friends at the capital. Mr. Florence is well known to the republican leaders. One of them remarked after he had left: "Young Florence would be a mighty good man to have in the State's legal department if we should manage to squeeze in again. He'd just about fit in as third assistant attorney general."

One of the liveliest young democrats in the Eighth district, Rodman Keenor, of Harrodsburg, was over here this week looking in on the Legislature. Mr. Keenor was deputy clerk of the Court of Appeals under the last democratic administration. He is now county attorney of Mercer and secretary of the Mercer County Fair. He is one of the shrewdest young politicians in the State and will undoubtedly go up. He is well known in Lincoln county, having married Miss Nell Adams, of Hustonville. S. M. S.

This contractor got results.

Some years ago a contractor building a railroad in a warm climate was troubled a great deal by sickness among the laborers.

He turned his attention at once to their food and found that they were getting full rations of meat and were drinking water from a stream near by.

He issued orders to cut down the amount of meat and to increase greatly the quantity of Quaker Oats fed to the men.

He also boiled Quaker Oats and mixed the thin oatmeal water with their drinking water. Almost instantly all signs of stomach disorders passed and his men showed a decided improvement in strength and spirits. This contractor had experience that taught him the great value of good oatmeal.

The cost was small; 10c for regular size packages; it is also packed in hermetically sealed tins for hot climates.

FIELD.—Will Montgomery, charged with killing Will Stephens, familiarly known as "Shortening Bread," in the East End, had his examining trial before Judge James P. Bailey Tuesday and was held over to the circuit court in $500, which he readily gave. Montgomery proved himself a man of excellent character.

SCOTT.—Mr. Charles Scott, a substantial and good citizen of the East End, died Wednesday and was buried in the Goshen cemetery yesterday afternoon after services by Mr. J. C. McClary. He is survived by his wife, who was a Miss Vanhook, and several children. Mr. Scott was a brother of Mr. David Scott, of the Goshen section.

MR. MACK HUFFMAN tells us that he remembers well when Col. Thomas H. Swope, whose death occurred in Kansas City some months ago, and who many believe was poisoned, was a resident of Stanford. He was a merchant and his store was where Mr. H. J. McRoberts' place of business now is. Col. Swope was in only moderate circumstances when he left here but amassed a handsome fortune before his taking away.

AS Senator Bankhead said, after he heard Senator Heyburn's tirade on the grand old Confederate soldiers in a speech in the Senate, so say we of the Danville people and the Kentucky Advocate anent their indignation meeting held over the "remains" of our own Senator Hubble: "We are sure the gentlemen from Boyle now feel much better." Verily the mountain labored and brought forth a mouse. Our Danville friends should bear in mind that men are easier led than driven and that vinegar never catches flies.

THE February term of the Lincoln circuit court will convene Monday, but on account of the inability of the fiscal court to provide adequate room, Judge Sausley will hear only equity cases. The grand jury, however, will be in session and all witnesses who have been summoned must be present in order that they may be recognized for appearance at the regular May term.

TONY, THE CONVICT.—A comedy drama in five acts, will be given at Alcorn's Opera House on the evening of Feb. 25. The High School students of Hustonville Graded School will give this thrilling drama for the benefit of the school library. All friends of education and patrons of the school are cordially invited. The program will be interspersed with good music. If you miss "Tony" you will miss "Weary Wayside" and "Jackson" too, and the pleasure of life will be greatly diminished. Come! General admission, adults 25 cents. Children 12 years and under, 15c. Reserved seats at Riffe's store. The trouble begins promptly at 7:30.

John D. Horton, the up-to-date restaurateur and fancy grocer, and Miss Katie Phillips, daughter of Mrs. Geo. Logan, both of this place, were married at Nicholasville Wednesday. They told only their most intimate friends of their intentions and the news of their marriage came as quite a surprise. Mr. Horton is a clever and industrious young man and his legion of friends will congratulate him on his return for winning so charming a bride. Mr. and Mrs. Horton will take a short bridal tour and will meet with a hearty welcome on their return home. The I. J. joins their many other friends in hearty congratulations and best wishes.
